CLARKSON GRID TEAM HANDS BUFF AND BLUE 21-0 DEFEAT IN SECOND GAME OF SEASON

Hamilton Unable to Launch Effective Scoring Drive; McGee, Sophomore Tackle, Features on Defense

Clarkson's veteran football team took advantage of numerous Hamilton weaknesses Saturday afternoon on Steuben Field to score the Green and Gold's first football victory over the Buff and Blue since the two schools began gridiron relationships in 1900. Clarkson scored touchdowns in the second, third, and fourth quarters to gain a 21-0 victory over Hamilton, whose attack failed time and again and whose defense was torn to shreds by Clarkson's heavier line and fast-moving backs. McGee, who was injured late in the game, featured on the defense for the Buff and Blue.

Even the Hamilton aerial defense, which had functioned particularly well against Alfred a week previously, proved ineffective. Clarkson, with one of its best teams of recent years, gained much yardage on off-tackle plays and line smashes, and mixed its running attack with forward passing deceptive enough to bewilder the Hamilton defense. Hamilton made only three first downs as against 13 recorded for the visiting team. Poor and ineffective tackling by Hamilton gave Clarkson much added yardage.

Brooker Stars For Visitors

Only in flashes did Hamilton show any offensive power. George Kingsley broke away for some 30 yards for Hamilton's longest single gain. Two or three successful off-tackle plays and a few completed passes were all Hamilton could show on the offense.

The ball changed hands considerably on fumbles and interceptions by both teams, turning the tide in Hamilton's favor several times when Clarkson was deep in local territory, and breaking up Hamilton's few rallies. With Steves and Brooker leading the attack the visitors exhibited much speed and cleverness. Brooker, a diminutive, shifty ball-carrier, scored the first touchdown late in the second quarter, after leading his team on a march half way down the field. The extra point was drop-kicked by Benton. Midway in the third quarter, Steves, Clarkson quarterback, broke through for the second score, the extra point again being drop-kicked. Clarkson got away to no particularly long gains in scoring either of its first two touchdowns. The visitors clicked off the first downs in two or three plays and advanced steadily to scoring positions.

on the varsity sword team, competing with the sabre and downing many intercollegiate opponents of note. Hutchinson is continuing his work with the sabre, fencing under excellent coaches in the New York Athletic Club, and competing with many current metropolitan and national champions, as well as past Olympic team members. First of Exhibits In Library

With a collection of one hundred notable French prints the College Arts Association is holding its first exhibition in the College Library under the sponsorship of Edward Root, '05. The collection is given by Kennedy and Co., of New York City, and Bourgeat and VonGelder, of Paris.

The exhibit is one of several which will tour the universities of the country in an effort to stimulate an interest in the better phases of modern art. The collection is a valuable one, one of the etchings being valued at $120.

The picture entitled "Balcony on the Sea by Laborureur," holds this price tag and with the other pictures is offered for sale. Other pictures of worth are a "Torso" by Deruin, "Artists Studio" by Picasso, and "Crossed Hands," by Segongai.

FERRY GREETS FRESHMAN CLASS

President and Wife Receive New Hill Men at Annual Reception

In keeping with their usual custom, President and Mrs. Ferry entertained the members of the freshmen class at a reception given at their home on Friday evening. A majority of the members of the class attended the function and the affair was one of the most sucessful of its type held on the Hill.

The freshmen, who were already fairly well acquainted due to the new rooming system and the freshman banquet held in the Hall of Commons a week ago Saturday, were introduced to the Faculty and were entertained with light refreshments. Wallace B. Johnson, '15, acted as head of the reception line. Mrs. Ferry was assisted in serving the refreshments by Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Patterson.

ROCHESTER TO FACE HAMILTON

Crippled Hill Squad Prepares for Game with Strong Up-State Team

With their team somewhat crippled from the effects of Saturday's game Hamilton's coaches are working hard with the material at hand preparing for the coming game with the Rochester Yellow Jackets. Rochester's team was hard hit by graduation last year but it has a hard working organization made up mostly of sophomores who beat Alfred Saturday night by a score of 12-6.

Captain Barney Smith is the oustanding player of the Yellow Jacket organization. This is his third year as a half-back. Al Kappelman, a junior and "Dink" Erdle, a senior, are the outstanding ends. Bruce Agey shows the best form at tackle while their best guard is Ralph Aranovitz. The team which has beaten Hamilton six times in twelve games played, was beaten by Wesleyan 6-3 in their first game this season.

The probable lineup:
Fullback—Warner.
Halfbacks—Smith and Atterbury
Quarterback—McNeary.
Ends—Erdle and Kappelman.
Tackles—Watson and Agey.
Guards—Dankoff and Aronovitz.
Center—Heesch.

Professor Graves Gives Talk on British Financial Situation Before Utica Rotary

"Still greater unemployment and a reduced standard of living somewhat migitated by an increase in export trade is to be expected throughout England unless a rapid return to the Gold Standard is affected," predicted Dr. Edgar B. Graves, Associate Professor of History on the Hill, before the Rotary Club in Hotel Utica, Friday noon.

"When finally the crisis is over, the political career of Ramsey MacDonald will have come to a close, said Dr. Graves turning to the political aspects of the situation. He expressed the opinion that there would be a return to power by Liberal and Conservative candidates, an increase of Trade Union and proletariat influence in the Labor party.

Dr. Graves predictions as to the results of the crisis followed a summary and an interpretation of what has taken place. He showed that the budget has been balanced and foreign bankers have been willing to grant the English government substantial loans. "But the budget is balanced by means of an increase in taxation. By that increase, business is still further fettered; and the enchainment of business will result in increased unemployment figures. Indeed even within the last month the number of unemployed has advanced 80,000 to the new high level of 2,812,000 or about one-fourth of the insured employables.

TO GIVE RECITAL

RUTH BRETON

Ruth Breton, Violinist, Will Inaugurate New Season for Musical Acts Society With Violin Recital in Chapel Monday

Ruth Breton, the young violinist who captured the College last year by her tonal and physical beauty, will open the semester's ceries of concerts sponsored by the Musical Arts Society when she appears in the Chapel Monday night.

Miss Breton has been acclaimed by critics both here and abroad as one of the most gifted violinists now before the public. Though still very young, she has had a varied career, and has appeared, in addition to her own concerts, as soloist with the most distinguished orchestras both in America and Europe.

Has Studied with Kneisel

After appearing with almost every notable orchestra in the United States and being warmly received everywhere, Miss Breton was persuaded to undertake a European tour. Her susequent appearances in London, Hamburg, Munich and Berlin were the signal for an outburst of acclaim and enthusiasm equal to the American. Returning here, the violinist immediately continued her concert work, and her latest recital at Carnegie Hall, New York, amply attested her popularity with the public and esteem of the critics.

Miss Breton received her first instruction at the age of five from her father, himself a proficient violinist. At eleven, she made her first public appearance, playing so difficult a work as Saint Saens' "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso." At the suggestion of Mischa Elman, Miss Breton studied for a year with Franz Kneisel, and then became for several a favorite pupil of Leopold Auer in New York.

Paul W. Harrison to Address Poly Sci Group Friday At Deke House

Dr. Paul W. Harrison, medical missionary and author, will address the Political Science Club, Friday night, on the subject, "The System of Mandates". The meeting will be held at the Delta Kappa Epsilon house and is to be called at eight o'clock.

Dr. Harrison received his A.B. from the University of Nebraska and his M.D. from John Hopkins University. Upon the completion of his college work he proceeded to Arabia where he has carried on medical missionary work since 1909. He has the honorary M.A. from Yale University (1930) and is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

Is Author of Book

During his three furloughs he has had intimate contacts with the student life in this country, so that he combines the advantages of a fascinating background of rich experience in Christian service with a knowledge of campus attitudes and problems.

His technical skill and professional ability have called forth the tribute of even those who do not appreciate his life purpose. A leading physician at the Massachusetts General Hospital remarked that he was "too good material to waste on the heathen" But it is due to the vitality of his Christian life and message that he is being insistently called for by student leaders in many parts of the country. In addition to his scientific contributions he has written an interesting book for the general reader,—"The Arab at Home."

R. P. I. DOWNS SOCCER TEAM

Fredman and Diggs Star On Defense As Buff and Blue Lose, 2-0

Hamilton's soccer team lost its opening game of the season by a 2-0 nothing score to R. P. I. Saturday. Superior passwork by the Red team and the inadaptability of the Buff and Blue type of game to the small field were largely responsibile for the outcome of the game, which was hard-fought throughout.

With the exception of two charges on the Hamilton goal early in the first quarter the Hillmen had the ball in enemy territory for most of the first and the early part of the second period, but were unable to produce the final scoring punch.

R. P. I.'s tally came about midway through the second quarter, when Campello scored on a penalty kick. During the rest of the half play see-sawed back and forth, with neither team making a serious offensive threat.

The second half showed the Hamilton team to be tiring, and R. P. I was on the offensive most of the time. Only the spectacular stops made by Diggs, Buff and Blue goalie, and the defensive work of Fredman, aided by Ruland and Bull, held the home team to a single field goal.

The tally came with but thirty seconds left to play, when Roth recovered the ball and dribbled up the field with the entire R. P. I line inside of the opposing backfield. Schiller took a shot after receiving a pass from Roth, and Campello scored on the rebound.

The line-up and summary of the game:

Hamilton (0)	R. P. I. (2)
G—Diggs	Fowler
R F—Abbott	Marvin
R H—Cunningham	Elmore
C H—Ruland	Greene
L H—Pippitt	Putnam
O R—Maijgren (c.)	Perlenfein
I R —Gross	LoPresti
CF—Keeler	Campello
I L—Symonds	Schiller
O L—Creighton	Roth

Goals—Campello (2). Substitutions—Hamilton: Lewis for Abbott, Bull for Pippitt, Nehf for Symonds.

FALL FASHIONS

Along with the Fall Fashions there comes to the Hill every year a group of salesmen whose mission it is to insult the intelligence of Hamilton undergraduates. These men are easily distinguishable by their colorful displays of handsome book bindings and by their profound knowledge of the contents of every so-called "smutty" book that has ever been written.

The dormitory monitors this year will provide somewhat of a check to the sale of these books, but the matter should not be left entirely to them. It is the duty, and it should be considered a privilige, of every man in College to report the presence of these salesmen in the dormitories. Not only do they violate a college rule by entering the dormitories but, far more important ,they indicate what a noble and exalted opinion the outside world must have of the College to propose so sell smut by such cheap sales talk as "this college bought so many" and "we sold blank-thousand copies at that university". With everyone on the watch to report these salesmen to the monitors, this year shuold witness their immediate expulsion from the Hill dormitories.

DRESS UP THE BAND

The appearance of the College Band at the Hamilton-Clarkson game Saturday presented to the College the fact that that organization is here to stay. The quality of the music rendered and the accuracy attained in marching are indicies of the amount of time which the members of the Band have devoted to that activity since its organization more than a year ago. During the year that has passed, Richard Redmond, to whom the College owes a debt of deep gratitude, has built up a band of which any college of Hamilton's size can well be proud.

A year ago we advocated dressing up the Band. Only recently members of the group were fitted with white trousers lined with buff and blue stripes. In this manner the appearance of the organization has been improved considerably but the College should go further in that connection. Not only to better still the appearance of the Band, but to reward its members for their efforts and to encourage an increased turnout at rehearsals, some sort of an insignia or monogram should be devised and presented to the men who compose the Band. There are but a few ways in which the College can show its appreciation for such a group and this is one of them.

Campbell and Glazer Are Given Coveted Phi Beta Kappa Membership

Although only two members of the present senior class were elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary schoalstic society, the list of credit or over is larger than usual. HOWARD WORKS AT WOOD'S HOLE

Spends Summer at Labratory as Recipient of Renwick Prize Scholarship

As the recipient of the Renwick Prize Scholarship in Biology, John Wade Howard, '32, spent the past summer at the Wood's Hole Labratory in Massachusetts studying invertebrate zoology from marine forms. The school, which is open only during the summer, offers several courses in marine biology to graduate students who have chosen biology for their field and also to undergraduates who wish to become more familiar with the real study of biology as separate from medical biology.

Lab Work Different

The course consists of lectures, seminars, labratory work, and field trips. Howard stated that the lecturers were men who are accounted as being at the head of their fields and were brought from great distances to impart their knowledge to the students. Besides these extra lecturers there was a professor for each course and he directed the work in that course. Every day except Tuesday brought a lecture while on Tuesday a seminar was held. The students then did their regular labratory work or were engaged in field trips throughout the major part of the day.

The labratory work differs from the usual courses in that all of the material used at Wood's Hole is fresh and provides a much truer idea of the actual living condition of the specimens. Although there are no examinations given in the courses, credit may be gained by the preparation of papers on the "lab" work. Other Hamilton students who were at the school are Elver O. Smith, '29 and Carl B. Smith, '31.

Ristine Is Honored By Pentagon Society

Following the Chapel services Sunday morning Professor Frank H. Ristine was initiated into the Pentagon Society as an honorary member, at a meeting held in the Samuel Kirkland Cottage. Following the induction ceremony Professor Ristine, Wallace B. Johnson, '15, and the active members, Eames, Estabrook, Gross, Pritchard, and Stone were the guests of Albert I. Prettyman at a picnic dinner held near Kirkland.

COLLEGE BUYS RISLEY HOME

New Addition to Hill Property to Be Used for Home for Faculty Members

One of the additions to the College made during the summer was the purchase of the former Risley home which lies on the south side of the hill, just below the arbor. The College purchased this piece of property in order to provide a home for some member of the faculty although it will not be used for this purpose for some time.

Dr. Ferry stated that the property had been offered to the Clinton school in order that it might be used as an annex of the overcrowded school which is situated between Mr. Burton's house and the College property. It is expected that this offer may be used to advantage by the local school board.

The property has been in the hands of the Risley's for some time and was recently forced into being put on sale. Mr. Risley was formerly a lawyer and later worked on the grounds force of the College. Except for the North house, all of the property on the north side of College street down to the bottom of the Hill belongs directly or indirectly to the College. The North house is owned by descendants of Edward North, former professor of Greek, who was known to the students as "Old Greek" and who wos one of the most beloved of the College faculty.

THE BIG SWING IS TO U. S. TIRES

"That bully old slogan hits me just right—

. . . no bamboozlin' about that!"

SURE! When a word fits, you know it! "Satisfy" just fits CHESTERFIELD. A smoker picks up a package, and he likes its neat appearance — no heavy inks or odors from ink. That satisfies him.

Then he examines a Chesterfield. It is well-filled; it is neat in appearance; the paper is pure white. And that satisfies him.

He lights up. At the very first puff he likes the flavor and the rich aroma. He decides that it tastes better—neither raw nor over-sweet; just pleasing and satisfying.

Then he learns it is milder. That's another way of saying that there is nothing irritating about it. And again he's satisfied!

Satisfy — they've got to satisfy! The right tobaccos, the CHESTERFIELD kind, cured and aged, blended and cross-blended, to a taste that's right. Everything that goes into CHESTERFIELD is the best that money can buy and that science knows about. CHESTERFIELDS do a complete job of it. They Satisfy!

NEW NAMES ON MUSIC PROGRAM

Musical Arts Society to Add Shere and Vas to List of Performances

The Musical Arts Society has completed its program of concerts for the first semester with the exception that the December engagement is not yet definite. Once again it is placing before the students a series of concerts by accomplished artists.

Next Monday evening Miss Ruth Breton will open the series with a violin recital. She appeared on the Hill last year, and was extremely well received.

On November 13 Sandor Vas, head of the piano department at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, will give a piano recital on the Hill. Madame Saudeikine, who also appeared last year, will sing on January 8.

Although definite arrangements have not yet been made, it is probable that Frederick Sherr, of the Metropolitan Opera, reputed to be the world's greatest baritone singer now living, will have a concert early in December.

The officers of the Society are: president, Professor Shute; vice-president, Professor A. P. Saunders; and treasurer, Professor Fancher. The students on the committee are Norris M. Eames, '32, James Heyl, '33, Robert Hicks, '33, and A. Kirk White, '32.

M. Carleton Virkler, '27, was married during the past summer. He is accosiated in business with the firm of S. F. Virkler of Castorland, N. Y.

Utica Pastor Talks Before Hill Audience

Dr. Walter H. Smith, pastor of the Central Church, Utica, addressed a joint meeting of the History and Political Science Clubs held at Emerson Hall, Monday evening, on the subject "Theodore Roosevelt." Dr. Harris was introduced by Dr. Millege L. Bonham, Jr., as a man whose personal acquaintance with the late president authorized him to give an honest and intimate description of this great American figure.

Dr. Smith repeated a current tradition that a hurricane and earthquake occurred the same day that Theodore Roosevelt was born, and that never since has man so impressed New York. "Certainly there have been few such dynamic leaders, men able to answer 25,000 letters in one year, make 21 speeches and read two books during a single day, and hold an audience for an hour with an assassin's bullet buried in his chest."

"Theodore Roosevelt possessed an unusually wholesome mind and the highest degree of moral courage. Perhaps the greatest test of this spiritual strength came at the Republican Convention when a southern delegation offered him the votes required for his nomination if he would but agree to their system of representation. Although this political support would assure his nomination and eventually elect him president, he answered the bribe with this reply: "You may go back to the delegates and thank them, but I do not want their votes unless they agree with my policy."

Contest for Life Editorship Begins

With the start of the editorial and feature story competitions, the junior contest for the editorships of Hamilton Life is already underway, while the freshmen reportorial contest is slated to start in several weeks. Seven freshmen will be placed on the board.

The competition, which will end around Easter, will be judged on the same basis as last year. The quality of the work, editorials, feature stories, and extra news will count, although the contest is quite largely based on the competitive issues, which each will put out after Thanksgiving.

Those juniors who are in the contest are: Howard C. Hosmer, Edward N. Main, Henry H. Work, Robert M. Diggs, Gordon V. Vickery, Robert E. Brownlee, and Philip W. Schleit.

Golf Contest Held in Spring

The Class of 1930 received the honor of being the first class to have its numerals inscribed upon the McGregor Alumni Golf Plaque at the first annual alumni golf tournament held during Commencement Week last June. The victor in the low gross tournament was Franklin B. Mead, '30 of Fort Wayne, Indiana. Jessie B. Milham, '01, of Rochester, was winner in the low net score tournament.

The alumni golf tournament was established in an effort to enliven Commencement Week for returning graduates, who revisit the Hill each year. The plaque, which will record the class and individual winners each year was donated by the Rev. Dr. Robert G. McGregor, '97, of New Rochelle, who is an ardent golf enthusiast.

The matches are played on the Hill course and consist of individual handicap and low gross and low net scores, and class teams medal score without handicap. The handicaps for the individual players are determined by the home club rating.

The large number of alumni who turned out last June did much to make the feature a major event of the week, and insured its success in the years to come. Upon registering in the library, an opportunity was offered each alumnus to sign for the tournament to be played at his leisure. The results were announced by President Ferry at the Alumni luncheon following the commencement exercises.

LaRue G. Morris, '31, of Endicott, N. Y., is employed in the Agfa-Ansco Company's plant in Binghamton. He accompanied Winthrop Davenport, '27, of Clinton, who is working with the same firm, to the Hamilton-Clarkson game on the Hill Saturday.

HARRIERS RUN AT ANNANDALE

Hamilton Runners to Compete With St. Stephens Team on Difficult Course

The Hamilton cross-country season will be inaugurated Saturday when the Hill team travels to Annandale to meet the St. Stephens harriers in the first meet of the year.

Cross-country is St. Stephens' major sport, and although it is a small institution, its teams have proved themselves of good quality in previous years. The Hill runners defeated the Annandale men when the meet was held here last year. Although crippled somewhat this year by the loss of Weber, their captain for three years, St. Stephens will have a well balanced team to face the Buff and Blue representatives.

The course at Annandale is the most difficult one that the Hill men will run this year. It is a five-mile course and may be shortened to coincide with the distance of the Hamilton course.

The cross-country squad had a trial run of two and a quarter miles between the halves of the Clarkson game on Saturday. Pritchard and Captain Campbell finished together followed by Gildersleeve, Olszewski, Clegg, Dube, and Bliss in the order named.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Professor Farncis L. Patton of the Economics Department of the Faculty to Miss Elizabeth Prime Keeler, was announced recently. Miss Keeler is the daughter of the Rev. Wendell Prime Keeler of Yonkers, N. Y., who has preached on numerous occasions in the Hill Chapel. Professor Patton has been granted a Sabbatical leave this year for study. The wedding is expected to take place this November.

At a recent meeting of the casting committee it was announced that the Hamilton College Charlatans would present "The Front Page" as their first play of the year. This play, written by two newspaper men, Ben Hacht and Charles MacArthur, enjoyed unparalled success in New York several years ago, and has lately been adapted to the screen.

The cast of the play is composed entirely of men and offers from fifteen to twenty parts. In order that the roles may be filled as early as possible tryouts are to be held in the Little Theatre, tomorrow night. A copy of the play will be on reserve in the Library the first of next week.

The new officers of the Charlatans are Walsh ,'32, president, and Fal, '33, vice president.

OLD GOLDS

Charming women are first won by OLD GOLDS' appealing taste. But their enthusiasm doubles when they find that OLD GOLDS do not taint the breath or mar the whiteness of pearly teeth.

That's because OLD GOLD is a pure-tobacco cigarette. Made from the finest nature-flavored tobacco. So good, it needs no added flavoring.

It's "foreign flavoring," not good tobacco . . . that leaves unwanted aftermaths. Play safe. Smoke pure-tobacco O. Gs. They leave nothing behind but pleasant recollections.
